

Week 7, Term 2

14 June 2024

Kia ora e te whānau

This week all our classes have started working on and learning their class dances for our production. Our main characters have also been working extremely hard learning their lines and starting to act out their parts too. We know that performing on The Regent stage will be very memorable for all our students.

On Monday at 3pm we are hosting a quick parent meeting regarding costume making—if this is something you can help with please join this meeting at pick up time (or touch base with Pou Jo regarding what you may be able to help with). We will also be looking for a few helpers to support with making props too.

Each week we are continuing to have a school wide goal that links to our values. Being a pathfinder is our focus at the moment and we have been teaching students about asking for help with their learning and being prepared to support others. Next week our Pathfinder Goal is: I persevere when things get tricky!

Our Energised value was definitely on display this week at the boys Netball Festival. This event followed on from a series of lunchtime coaching sessions with Netball Manawatū and it was great to see our boys' enthusiasm about learning new skills. Next term Pou Allanah has organised netball coaching sessions for Room 4 and 5 as well as hockey coaching sessions for all students. We are really proud to hear about all the sporting achievements each week outside of school too.

You will have noticed the progress this week with the Community Project to move the War Memorial. The new location will create a lovely space to honour those that served in the war and lost their lives—from our school and community. The base of the memorial will be restored and new fencing will be in place. We are also exploring options around signage that shares further details about these soldiers and their link to our school. We are hopeful our learners will be part of this research too. Please bear with us while the next phase of this project continues. The work on our front court project can now begin too. We are so grateful for all the fundraising for this front court area!

KA PAI KIDS

Room 1: Louie—You have been working really hard this week to support others with their learning. Your clever thinking skills and wealth of general knowledge often blows your teachers away, and it is so cool to see your peers benefiting from this as well. The way you are stepping up as a leader is so great to see Louie. Keep it up my friend, you are doing great!

Room 2: Leo—You have grown so much in confidence this term as a Pathfinder. You quietly persevere through learning and ask for help when you need it. You are sharing more of yourself, and your awesome ideas in classroom and we are loving it. You are one super cool dude!

Room 3: Elijah—What a fantastic week you have had mate! It was so cool seeing you share about the PEAK values with such energy to all our visitors. You have worked hard on our weekly goal and shown awahi to your friends inside the classroom and outside. Ka rāwe, Elijah!

Whā: Jackson—You are currently being a Pathfinder in our class. You are leading our literary learning at present when you started the write and publish your own graphic novels movement. You didn't set out to be a leader but you are one nevertheless. Way to go Jackson!

Mangōpare: Oliver B—You consistently show all of the PEAK values. You are organised and ready to learn, enjoy contributing your thoughts to class discussions, and ask questions to lead your learning deeper. I am so impressed by your attitude towards learning and how you maximise every opportunity. You also support others so well, whether they have questions or just need a buddy to work with. Thank you for your awahi, Oliver! Kia kaha!

Pūkeke: Charlie—It is so exciting to see you realise and harness your true capabilities! You are a very clever young man and are starting to push yourself in all areas of your learning. We already know maths is your all-time-fav, so to see you apply this same focus in your reading in writing is going to be magical!
